

Dickinson High School

Proposal for Academies & Career Pathways

A 4-YEAR OPPORTUNITY TO PREPARE FOR THE FUTURE.

Dickinson High School is adopting a modern education campus offering an innovative learning program. The Academy model is organized into small learning communities or teams, collectively known as The Academies of DHS. The concept of Small Learning Communities (SLCs) is growing across the nation as an effective model to prepare all students for college AND career.

What do the academies offer?

- Core Curriculum that meets state standards integrated within each academy
- Smaller Personalized Learning Environments for all Students
- Teachers that Work Together as a Team to Ensure Students Success
- Relevant and Engaging Curriculum and Instruction
- Project-Based, Interdisciplinary Learning
- Connections with Business and Community Partners for Post-Secondary and Career Success
- Creates relationships between Businesses and Students that lead to local career opportunities
- A win-win for Students and local Business
